Message from the President

The annual meeting of the Indiana Urologic Association was a great success. We had a total of 28 attendees, including 5 midlevel providers who had their own program with a breakfast presentation. Industry representation was once again strong with 15 exhibitors. Our corporate members for this year are Astellas Pharma US, Biolitec, Indevus Pharmaceuticals and Pfizer. In addition American Medical Systems and Auxilium provided educational grants for the meeting.

The event kicked off with the welcome reception dinner, Friday night. Kimberly Kannensohn gave us a thorough review of the current Stark III regulations and how they effect our practices. Saturday we listened to state of the art presentations on BPH treatment options, Androgen replacement therapy and IMRT. The incontinence debate between Dr. Mulcahy and Dr. Knapp over Sphincter vs. Male Sling was very informative. Dr. Paula Bunde won the 2008 resident interesting case contest and took home a $500 cash prize with her presentation titled Angiomyolipoma with IVC thrombus: A case report.

The information presented at the business meeting revealed that the association is in good shape financially and poised for growth. Membership present were in favor of our current welcome dinner and half day meeting format as well as the downtown location and mid winter timing for the meeting. Dr. Ken Ney volunteered to be our newest member at large. Overall feedback from both participants and exhibitors was very positive.

Everyone can look forward to an even better annual meeting in 2009. I have already received feedback on future topics and speakers. The board members will be looking at the evaluations from this meeting and would welcome any input you have to help us improve the meeting. Stay tuned and we hope to see you at IUA meeting in 2009.

Sincerely,
Sam Thompson, MD
President, IUA

President-Elect's Report

The IUA 2008 Annual Meeting was well attended and the evaluations were most complementary. Our association is clearly up and running, but we must continue to further develop with even better attendance in the future. Apart from the CME credits for the meeting it is hoped that the members will benefit from the interaction with colleagues and residents. Dr. Thompson has done a great job with the organization of the meeting, with Dr. Steidle providing enthusiastic support and as always, a great talk. I would urge every practice in the state to have a greater representation at the 2009 meeting. Suggestions and comments that would assist in the planning of the next meeting and future association activity are welcome.

President-Elect, IUA
